THE COMMITTEE MUCH ENCOURAGED

Meet L. & N. Officials in Louisville Wednesday and Project Looks Like Certainty.

MR. L. P. BELL IS TO RETURN

Much encouraged over the attitude of the Louisville and Nashville railroad officials following a conference held Wednesday in Louisville by the committee composed of Mayor J. T. Hinton, representing the city of Paris and Messrs. H. S. Caywood and John T. Collins representing the citizens of North Middletown, returned home yesterday morning.

Mr. John J. Redmon, of North Middletown, received a telephone message from Mr. L. P. Bell, who was in Louisville Tuesday asking that a committee be sent to Louisville to confer with the officials regarding the proposed route for the new railroad through Bourbon county. Mr. Bell, who has been here for some time securing options on land through which the road is to pass, went to Louisville Saturday night where he made his report.

At the instance of Mr. Redmon, Mayor Hinton and Messrs. Collins and Caywood were selected to represent the county in the conference which was very satisfactory to both the railroad officials in their opinion and the representative committee.

The committee was in conference with Mr. J. Howe Payton, assistant to President Milton Smith, to whom the report of Mr. Bell was made, and from the fact that the officials were desirous of meeting a committee from Bourbon leaves the impression that they were very much pleased with his efforts while here.

That there has been a very favorable turn in affairs regarding the possibility of the proposed route is very evident. Mr. Payton, while not in a position to commit himself, according to a member of the committee which conferred with him, seemed much impressed with the feasibility of establishing the new road, and that the route over which it is to extend is the most local both from the point of less expense in construction and as a means of furnishing the most rapid transportation facilities from the coal fields into which the Louisville and Nashville is pushing its lines, to the North.

It is said the idea of Mr. Payton is to have the matters pertaining to the options secured along the right of way clearly settled and property owners who have not granted options conferred with before another step is taken, then after going over the route, that matter will be submitted to President Milton Smith and the executive board for their approval or disapproval.

With this in view Mr. Bell, who has been working on the proposed route will again take up the work and was to arrive in Paris last night. He will begin immediately to see all of the property owners from whom options have not been secured with a view of bringing the matter to an early close when it will be taken to the higher officials of the road.

Little time has been lost since it became apparent that the Louisville and Nashville was earnest in its desire to secure a right of way with the view of building a road through this territory and less than a month has elapsed since the work of securing options was begun. Since that time the work has been pursued with the greatest haste with the result that there is but a small number of options to be secured

FREE REMEDY HELPS CHILDREN

Many a mother has learned of a way of avoiding sickness in her family, especially among the children, by the use of a free sample bottle of the famous laxative, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This offer of the doctor's to send a free sample bottle has been responded to by thousands of women in all parts of America.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a truly wonderful laxative and especially adapted to the needs of babies and children because it is pleasant to taste and no child will refuse it. Then, it is mild and never gripes. It is all that a child's remedy should be, though it is a good laxative for the whole family because it is effective at all ages. It is not dynamic like salts, pills and powerful cathartics, which should not be given to children under any circumstances.

Nine times out of ten when a child complains and you don't know exactly what is the matter with it, it needs a laxative—its bowels are constipated. Syrup Pepsin will correct the trouble, tone up the child and soon it will be well again—wonderful results have been secured with Syrup Pepsin over night.

You can buy it of any druggist at fifty cents or a dollar a bottle, the latter being the family size, but you are invited to make a test of it first at the doctor's expense. Send him your address today and he will send you a free sample bottle direct to your home. Then when satisfied buy it of your favorite druggist.

Place the Tax Where it Should be

Instead of taxing sugar nearly two cents a pound, place a tax on wealth. The Democratic House of Representatives has announced this as a part of its program to bring about a reduction in the cost of living.

Now get ready for the old cry: "You can't do it; it's unconstitutional." Whenever it is proposed to tax wealth instead of poverty, wealth raises the question of constitutionality, accompanied with the charge of "radicalism." The income tax is not radical. Every first class nation of the earth—except this one—raises a part of its revenue to meet the expenses of government by taxing incomes, among such nations being Great Britain, Japan, France, Denmark, Germany, Holland, Austria, Switzerland, Australia, New Zealand and many more.

Under our present fiscal policy the expense of maintaining the army and navy, building public buildings and running the government is met by taxing the things the people must have in order to live. Practically all revenue is derived from the customs houses and internal revenue offices, with the exception of a comparatively small amount derived from the corporation tax, which was recently passed as a cheating substitute for an income tax.

While the hat, coats and shirts of the masses are taxed almost 71 per cent under this fiscal system, Rockefeller, Morgan, and the other millionaires are not asked by the federal government to pay any tax whatever on their swollen fortunes. Thus a poor man with a family actually pays more toward running the government than does a millionaire bachelor.

The Democratic plan is to place sugar on the free list. This will repeal the tax on the breakfast table, now borne by the American people. Then the present corporation tax will be extended to include individuals and partnerships having an annual income of $5,000 or more. The excess of income over $5,000 will be taxed one per cent, bringing into the treasury between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000 a year, which will more than cover the $53,000,000 now derived annually from the sugar tariff. The price of sugar to the consumer it is estimated, will then be reduced about 1 1/2 cents a pound.

Those who scout the idea that an income tax bill can be so drawn as to stand the test of the Supreme Court, may be referred to the opinion of any one of the country's leading lawyers, William Howard Taft, as follows: "In my judgment an amendment to the constitution for an income tax is not necessary. I believe that the income tax when the protective system of customs and internal revenue tax shall not furnish enough for government needs, can and should be devised which under the decisions of the Supreme Court will conform to the constitution."

Witticism at Lambs' Frolic. It was at one of the famous "frolics" given by the Lambs. Mr. Charles Frohman had made an extremely neat and appropriate speech. There was loud applause at its finish, and then, "Author!" "Author!" cried Mr. Augustus Thomas, standing up on his chair.

Manifest Swindle. First City Man—"How are you coming along with your poultry venture?" Second Ditto—"I've been swindled. I bought three incubators of different makes and not one of them has laid an egg yet!"—Lippincott's Magazine.

Orchard Pruning.

If not previously given attention, the present month affords one of the best opportunities to give to many orchards their needed winter pruning. If done annually the pruning will be usually a light one, but in perhaps a majority of the orchards in Kentucky the work is neglected from year to year until more radical treatment may be necessary. In the trees thus neglected, in which little recent growth has been made and with lowered vitality, a vigorous winter pruning tends to quicken the activities of the tree and if followed by feeding, cultivation and spraying will often bring such trees into a profitable bearing condition within a short time.

A tree, however, already growing vigorously, will require pruning somewhat guardedly, as a severe pruning at this season will often result in a rank growth of water sprouts during the spring and summer. Any such overgrowth of a tree when seen in a mature specimen is usually due to a strong soil, thorough tillage or over manuring and may usually be checked by withholding tillage and manure and seeding down for a while.

In one of its fundamental objects pruning is not materially unlike the purpose of a farmer, when in his corn field by replanting or by thinning he tries to secure a uniform stand of plants neither too few nor too many stalks in each hill.

So in a tree top it is important among other things for the largest production of fruit that there should be a full stand of branches forming a round, full headed tree—with such modifications of form as are characteristic of the variety—well filled on all sides, yet nowhere so crowded as to prevent the free circulation of air and liberal admission of light.

The most common error in the practice of pruning is in cutting a branch several inches out from the main stem upon which it grew. Frequently this pruning is done with an ax leaving stubs three to six inches long. This is a ruinous practice, for the long stub cannot be covered over with new healing tissue and in a few years decay will be started in this spur and soon travel down into the main branch or trunk of the tree; finally resulting in a rotten hearted or hollow tree, a delightful place while it lasts for the woodpeckers to nest, but soon destined to be broken down in a gale of wind or a sleet storm. Thousands of apple and other trees in Kentucky have been brought to an untimely end through such methods of pruning.

In removing the branch of a tree it is of great importance to saw it off close to the branch or trunk upon which it was growing. If it is a large and heavy branch, first make an undercut upon the lower side of the limb, then complete upon the upper side so that in falling away the branch may not tear off a strip of wood and bark, leaving an ugly wound upon the main branch. The cut surface, if more than an inch across, should be brushed with paint or some similar material to prevent decay starting in the wood before it has become healed over.

Pruning, however, is only one of the several practices needed in most orchards and should be followed by spraying, by fertilizing and by tilage. C. W. MATTHEWS, Prof. of Horticulture and Botany.

Thomas May Get Appointment.

A dispatch from Frankfort to the Louisville Post says: "While there isn't a job at the disposal of Gov. McCreary, at the close of this legislative session, with which the name of some Senator or Representative is not connected in the gossip going the rounds of the Capital, the only sure tip seems to be the appointment of Senator Claude M. Thomas, of Bourbon county, as Commonwealth's Attorney for the old Fourteenth Judicial district, to succeed Robert B. Franklin, who comes over into the new Thirty-sixth district, the county of Franklin.

Senator Thomas is not an applicant for the place in any sense of the word, but it is understood that it is to be tendered him by the Governor when the law becomes effective in June next. His district will be the counties of Bourbon, Scott and Woodford, and the Circuit Judge is Judge Robert L. Stout, of Woodford. Senator Thomas is one of the best lawyers in the district and his appointment will give general satisfaction.

"Connected with the gossip relative to the appointment of Senator Thomas is the story that the Governor will name Judge James H. Polsgrove, of the Frankfort bar, as Judge of the new Thirty-eighth district."

WOMEN TAKE NOTICE!

A man cannot understand the torture and suffering many women endure uncomplainingly. If the majority of men suffered as much pain and endured with patience the weakening sicknesses that most women do, they would ask for immediate sympathy and look for a quick cure.

Many women have been saved from a life of misery and suffering by turning to the right remedy—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy which is safe to take because containing no narcotics, alcohol or injurious ingredients. It is an alternative extract of roots, made with pure glycerin, and first given to the public by that famous specialist in the diseases of women—Dr. R. V. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. LIZZIE M. HESSEHEIMER of Lincoln, Neb., 529 "C" St., says: "I send a testimonial with much pleasure so that some suffering woman may know the true worth of your remedies. I was a great sufferer from female troubles but after taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which a friend advised me to take, I found myself very much improved. After taking three more bottles, and using two boxes of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets, I found myself on the road to recovery. I was in poor health for five years but now I am cured."

"I hope all women suffering from female weakness will give Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a fair trial."

Add fertility to the soil.

Clean up the poultry buildings.

Onions require a fine and firm seed bed.

Take good care of the brood sows from now on.

The brood sows should have some roots, if possible.

The boars should be isolated from the rest of the herd.

Chickens need decent housing, proper feed, and some care.

The feed for young guineas may be the same as for young turkeys.

Cold weather has prepared the soil for a bounteous crop next summer.

Oats without hulls is one of the most valuable of all grains for poultry.

Kaffir meal is the best grain to offset the laxative effects of skim-milk.

If a farmer desires to improve his flock, let him begin with pure bred males.

In feeding a milk cow a corn ration reduce the ration at first indication of fattening.

Standard utility fowls must be selected for the greatest egg production and quick maturity.

Don't forget that your cattle, hogs, horses, and sheep all need salt; not spasmodically but regularly.

No farmstead is complete without a generous space devoted to a garden for small fruits and vegetables.

During the winter the dairy farmer has more time to figure out his plans for improving his system of farming.

The breeding of high-class hackney stallions to high-class trotting mares has passed beyond the experimental stage.

You may feed all the food your hens can possibly use, but if you are short on grit the result will not be satisfactory.

The Embden, perhaps, makes a little better market bird than the Toulouse, but the latter lays more eggs, often forty in a season.

Don't burn up any kind of coarse litter that accumulates around the feed yards, but save it to mulch different plants in the garden.

In shoeing, the foot should only have so much hoof removed from it at each shoeing as is necessary for the proper fitting of the shoe.

Turkeys more than any other poultry seem to require fresh air. They will roost in trees during a snow-storm and not seem to mind it a bit.

A mixture of barley, cornmeal, wheat bran and roots will put flesh on horses fast. With this, of course, a small quantity of hay should be given.

One hears a great deal about the cost of feed this winter, but this cost is not so important as is the size of profits realized in feeding this high-priced feed.

No branch of husbandry now pursued offers better opportunities for profits for the amount of money invested and the time expended than the production of hogs.

Good quality wheat straw, which is neither moldy nor dusty, will make a fair roughage for horses, and when fed in moderate amounts should not prove injurious in any way.

The men who suffer least during the dry season are the dairy farmers. They always have an income, for there is always some crop that can be fed profitably to the cows.

The skimmilk calf becomes accustomed to eating grain and hay early in life, consequently, when it is weaned, the change of feed is not so noticeable as it is with the whole milk calf, and it does not suffer a setback at this time.

When ordering harness for the spring work have the collars made to order. Take the horses to the harness maker and get him to make collars that will fit. There is nothing more annoying than sore shoulders in the midst of harvest.

Horses are even grazers.
Green corn makes excellent silage.
Young cabbage plants need protection.
All pure-bred sires are not possessed of equal merit.
Nothing looks nicer than a display of nice, fresh eggs.
Constipation is the cause of many troubles with hogs.
Ashes and salt should be given to the hogs twice a week.
Cowpeas and barley are not common crops to grow together.
Some grains are the favorite food of chickens, while others are not.
Undesirable milk in many cases can be traced to unclean milk utensils.

Sheep should be kept on the average farm to aid in keeping down weed life.
Proper feeding and exercise will produce style along with the colt's growth.

Work stock will require more protein than can be obtained from grain and hay.
Sweet potatoes fed to poultry are fattening, but give a yellow tinge to the flesh.

The importance of the hay crop has never come to be fully appreciated in this country.
Scientists say it takes at least four pounds of feed to make one pound of gain in fowls.

Keeping a dairy on any farm should mean that the fertility of that farm is being increased.
Hay that is free from weeds is always much more valuable than hay that is weedy.

Many breeders overlook the importance of supplying variety in the feed for the brood sow.

A good horse is a valuable animal and deserves and should have the best of care and good feed.

Young calves are necessarily rather filthy in their habits and never do well in damp, dirty pens.

Incubators and brooders may be used for hatching geese, although not much employed for that purpose.

Great care should be taken in selecting laying hens, since they exert so great an influence on the progeny.

Onion seed should be tested for germination before being purchased because it soon loses its vitality with age.

A good way of sowing some hardy pasture grasses is to scatter the seed on the snow just before it melts in the spring.

As a general thing it is the best plan to feed hay and other roughage that may stir up dust after the milk is taken out of the barn.

Cold milk never separates as completely as warm milk. Thus it is good economy to have the separator bowl warm before the milk is put in.

Equal parts of wheat chaff and fine-cut clover hay, mixed with wheat-bran and wheat millfeed, may be fed to the horses in place of corn and hay.

Sudden changes in the food of sheep should be avoided. Change only one portion of the ration at once and make that change gradually.

It is a mistaken idea to think that you are saving feed by cutting down the cow's ration. The best way is to make her eat all that she can eat profitably.

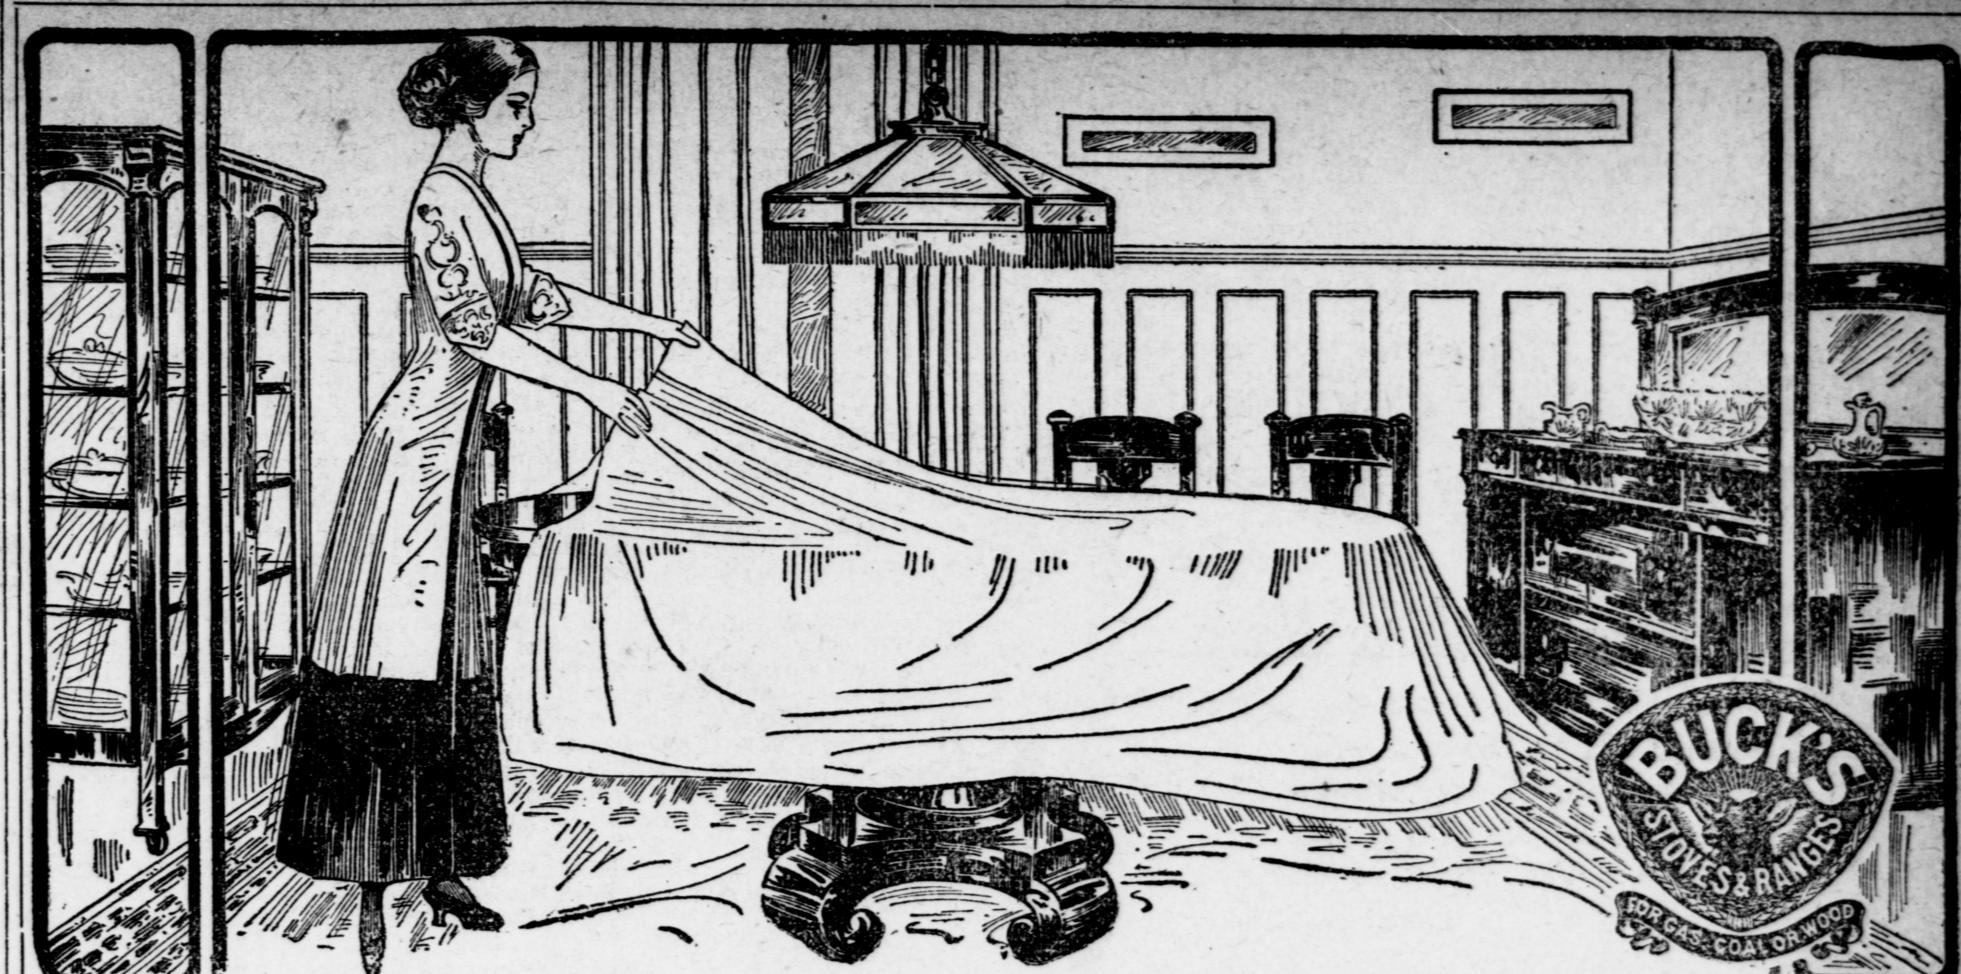

Turnips may flavor the eggs. They are not as palatable as mangers; in fact, some birds will not eat them at all, but at the same time they have considered food value.

Just after weaning, the calf should not be fed more than ten pounds of milk per day, divided into three feedings; this should be given at blood temperature, about 100 degrees.

Rock phosphate, muriate of potash, nitrate of soda and other chemicals may be used successfully in the growing of lettuce under grass, but they must be employed with care and intelligence.

Seed corn that was saved last fall should be looked after now. It is not too early to begin testing. Remember, the man who finds that he must buy corn and gets in his order first gets the choice purchase.

Wash the hand separator thoroughly. The separator that is not thoroughly scalded after being washed will soon give your dairy products a black eye by breeding all kinds of harmful germs which work rapidly in giving taints and odors to the cream and butter.

MAPLEHURST FARM.

Locanda, 2:02, the fastest of the get of Allerton, 2:09 1/4, was one of the greatest of the many game sons of that mighty sire. He is also one of the most beautiful stallions the turf has known and in his racing days turf writers divided space between tributes to his ability as a race horse and the superb individuality which captivated his audiences. Of splendid breeding on both sides of the pedigree, the fee of $50 for a living foal which his owner, W. A. Bacon, Paris, Ky., has placed on his services, seems small indeed, and should result in a quickly filled book.

In the stud with Locanda, are the noted sire Wiggins, 2:19 1/2, and the fast Peter Billiken, 3-year-old record 2:16 1/4 over a half-mile track. Wiggins has gained distinction as a sire, having three in the 2:10 list and a total of 33 in the standard record roll of honor. Peter Billiken is not only a trotting sensation but one of the best bred sons of the famed futurity sire, Peter the Great, 2:07 1/4, as his dam, Baron Lassie, is a daughter of Baron Wilkes, one of the most renowned broodmare sires of the age, and his second dam, Annie Sharp, is a producing daughter of Nutwood.

In six starts during his 3-year-old form in 1911, Peter Billiken was three times first, twice second and once third, and showed his ability to trot a half-mile track in 2:13. He is a big colt, of the fibre that will develop into a grand sire.

As a two-year-old he sired a few colts, and these show up well at the trot. Peter Billiken is standing at $50 for a living foal and Wiggins at $25. A neat booklet containing some interesting things regarding these stallions has been issued by Mr. Bacon, and will be sent to any applicant.

Princess Hal, 2:06 1/4, the good race mare, owned by Frank Hedrick, of Jamestown, Ohio, has been bred to Peter Billiken, 3:26 1/4.

Jap Model

Is the Business Man's Favorite—with its comfortable, roomy fitting qualities, its low, broad heel, and toe expression of good sense.

We picture the Jap Model in a soft Glazed Kid Blucher, with a heavy single sole of old-fashioned oak-tanned leather. We have other models of the Nettleton Make, but recommend the Jap to the busy man for every day wear.

Bourbon Circuit Court.

The first few days of the March term of the Bourbon Circuit Court have been of a rather slow order and nothing of importance has come up for trial. Tuesday and Wednesday were consumed in hearing motions and the assigning of cases for trial.

Col. R. B. Franklin, who was detained in Frankfort on the opening day by reason of his having business in the Federal Court, arrived Tuesday to assume his duties as Commonwealth's Attorney. The grand jury has been in daily session but nothing has been given to the public. It is said the body is investigating the cases where the accused are confined in the county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury, and it is probable they will make a partial report in a few days in order for them to secure a trial at this term of court.

Yesterday was consumed in trying two small suits, that of E. F. Spears & Sons vs. the Louisville and Nashville railroad and Queenie Jackson vs. J. H. Haggard. In the former case the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs awarding them the amount of their suit, $61.50. In the latter case the jury failed to reach an agreement and were excused by Judge Stout until this morning at 9 o'clock when they will resume their deliberations.

TUESDAY.

Commonwealth vs. Dan Elite, felonious assault, third day.

Commonwealth vs. Chas. Darnell, felony, seventh day.

Commonwealth vs. Ben Hickman, murder, seventh day.

Commonwealth vs. Paris Water Co., nuisance, ninth day.

In the case of Commonwealth vs. Robert Cunningham, indicted for involuntary manslaughter, was continued to the June term of court.

The following cases are set for Wednesday:

Commonwealth vs. Kentucky Distillers & Warehouse Company.

Same vs. the Paris Water Company.

Same vs. Julius Kessler & Co.

Same vs. Jonas Weil.

Same vs. John T. Hinton.

WEDNESDAY.

Wednesday morning in Circuit Court was consumed in hearing motions in assigning for trial a number of cases, when court adjourned until 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. The following cases were set for trial:

J. D. Keller vs. the L. & N. railroad for Thursday, the tenth day of the term.

Leila Judy vs. Same; Leer Bres, vs. same, and Louisville Tobacco Warehouse company vs. same for Friday, the eleventh day of the term.

Two cases of W. G. McClintock vs. L. & N. railroad company for Tuesday, the thirteenth day of the term.

John J. Peed & Co. vs. L. & N. railroad for Wednesday, the fourteenth day of the term.

Mrs. Amanda Wilson vs. L. & N. railroad for Thursday, the fifteenth day of the term.

The case of Amanda Wilson against the L. & N. is an appeal from the county court and relates to the condemnation of the right of way through the property of the plaintiff at Shawhan station. The case of Keller against the L. & N. is along the same lines.

All of the other suits are the result of the fire which occurred in Millersburg and destroyed certain warehouses in which the tobacco of the Burley Tobacco Society was stored with other property. The society obtained a judgment against the railroad company in the amount of $40,000 which was recently affirmed by the Court of Appeals. The fire, it was alleged, was caused by sparks from the locomotives of the defendant's engine and these suits are for the purpose of obtaining damages for the property destroyed.

DEATHS.

—Mr. F. F. Hurst, one of the best known insurance men in Kentucky, died Tuesday evening at 6:55 o'clock at his home in Millersburg, after a few days illness of double pneumonia.

Three weeks ago last Sunday Mr. Hurst went to Mt. Sterling to be there on court day Monday and there contracted a deep cold which developed into grippe from which he suffered two relapses. The early part of last week he was thought to be doing fairly well and was attending to his duties in the office. On Friday he suffered another relapse and pneumonia developed Saturday night. From this time to the end his case was considered hopeless by his attending physician, Dr. W. V. Huffman.

Mr. Hurst was one of the best known insurance men in Kentucky having served as Secretary and General Manager of the Hurst Home Insurance Co. since August 1903. In 1902 his brother, F. M. Hurst, who occupied the same position died. Mr. Hurst filled out his unexpired term until the regular election in 1903. He has been twice re-elected, the last time in August of 1911.

The Hurst Home Insurance Company was organized more than 20 years ago under the management of Mr. F. M. Hurst who operated it until his death in 1902. At the time Mr. F. M. Hurst assumed its management the company was writing about $1,000,000 of insurance, in the nine years that Mr. F. M. Hurst has operated it the amount has raised to $5,000,000.

—He was not only one of the best informed men on insurance but the author of a bill on Fraternal Insurance which passed both Houses of the Kentucky Legislature a few weeks ago.

Paris Defeats Richmond.

The Pairs High School Basket ball team defeated the Wesleyan High School team of Richmond Wednesday evening at this city in a fast and exciting game, the local boys winning by a score of 36 to 16.

Thompson was the stellar performer for the local team and threw goals after a fashion never before seen on the floor of the gymnasium. During the first five minutes of play he shot two goals from difficult positions. In the last period Horton, Chisholm and Curtis, each threw a difficult goal.

The local boys put up a strong defense and were aggressive from the start. While roughness was very evident at times few fouls were called and only two scores were counted for the visiting team. Paris only had one chance on a foul, which Curtis failed to make. The lineup was as follows:

Paris—Adair and Horton, guards.

Field goals—Horton 1, Thompson 9,

Chisholm 4, Curtis 4, Hobson 2, Cobb 1, Collins 2, Phillips 1.

Foul goals—Hobson 2.

The tip was also given out that Quincy Ward, of Paris, will be selected as the executive agent of the Commission to have the law enforced. His salary will be $2,500 a year, to be paid out of the license taxes collected from hunters.

Thinks Bradley's Chances Good.

A news dispatch from Georgetown says: "The chances for the appointment of V. H. Bradley to succeed Robert B. Franklin as Commonwealth's Attorney for the Fourteenth Judicial district grows brighter each day, according to the views of his friends. There is only one other candidate so far, Senator Claude Thomas, of Bourbon county, and it is declared he is eliminated by the forty-fourth section of the Kentucky Statutes, which provides that no Senator shall be appointed to an office within one year after the expiration of his term provided said office has been created by the Legislature of which he is a member. Mr. Bradley is one of the leading attorneys of the local bar and a prominent and zealous worker in every Democratic campaign."

Base Ball Season Close at Hand.

With the approach of the spring training season the local fans are beginning to take note of the base ball possibilities and there is much speculation as to what sort of a team will represent Paris in the pennant race this season. While there is little to be reckoned on for a certainty there is no doubt but that the Bourbonites will be ready for the running when the bell taps for the opening tilt.

The schedule, which has been made out and adopted has not been prepared for publication yet, but it is more than likely that President Neal will have it ready for the press before many days have passed.

Local interest in the game seems to be centered upon the abilities of Manager Lewis to get together a bunch of ball tossers that will be a credit to Paris, and from all accounts it is probable that he has some very promising timber among the number who have signed up for the season of 1912.

Much disappointment is expressed because of the fact that Hauser, who was regarded as one of the most promising youngsters in this company last season, has not yet signed a contract and it is rumored that the Indiana boy has made up his mind to refrain from professional ball the coming season. However, it is the universal hope that he can be induced to reconsider and report with the other member of the team about April 1.

President Bacon stated a few days ago that there was a possibility of Paris securing a big league catcher to take his place of Walter Mayer, and he is earnestly engaged in his efforts to land the man who, he says, is a husky fellow, with plenty of base ball ability and who would insure the Bourbonites the best backstop in the league.

Manager Lewis will likely report here about April 1 to go over the ground and have all of his plans ready when the members of the club, eighteen in number, arrive to begin their strenuous work of conditioning themselves for the trials for the regular position on the team. It is the plan of the management to have a number of exhibition games on the local grounds prior to the opening of the league season.

Call at my store and pick from the large new spring stock of wall paper just what you need and have it put on now and avoid the spring rush. Expert decorators ready to do your bidding.

The National for March.

There is something bold and attractive in the cover page of the March National that inspires one with the very temperament and spirit of the month named in honor of the Roman war god. The sturdy sailor on the forecastle by the windlass is a splendid reproduction of the type of sailor of the bygone days when the American flag was found on every sea where civilized commerce or remunerative employment could be found.

There is the usual flashlight on affairs at Washington, calling attention to the fact that the next March winds that blow will witness another inauguration at Washington. The opening of Presidential headquarters and the clearing of the decks for the campaign of 1912 are described by the editor, Joe Chapple, who seems to be here, there and everywhere—wherever there is a breath of political air stirring.

The remarkable serial, "The Minor Chord," the story of an American prima donna, continues in this issue. The fiction for the month is an especially strong feature. There are glimpses of the men who are doing things today with personal sketches about Wrigley, the chewing gum man, Cairns, prominent in the railroad world, and other Americans who are in the public eye. The story of Sam Slick's horse trade and many other tempting yarns have the cozy warmth of the fireplace in the chill of the early spring months.

Dr. George Wharton James tells the exciting history of Mrs. Josephine Clifford McCrackin, a noted California writer. A notable paper on "The Farmer in Ancient Times" is contributed by Charles Winslow Hall. These and other features make the March issue of the National unusually attractive.

Best for Actor to Fit Play.

Eugene Walter, playwright, said: "It is bad art to write a play around an actor. Write the best play you can, regardless of this actor and that. The other method suggests Gimlets. Gimlets—a great bore—was a playwright. He said to a friend one day, excitedly: 'Congratulate me. I've got an order for another melodrama from Showman.' 'Did Showman supply the plot?' the friend asked. 'Well—er—said Gimlets, 'he showed me all the scenery he had.'"

Gothic Tapestry.

A Gothic tapestry is to be seen at M. Vail Marquereau's place in the Rue du Petit Thouras. It is one of the rarest and most interesting specimens of the art of tapestry making in the beginning of the fifteenth century. The tissue, which is of wool, seems to approach that of La Marche manufactory of the period. Its blue ground is strewn with flowers of different colors and is ornamented with curiously designed animals, among which is a unicorn.

No Freedom for Him.

It was his first visit to this country, and he was anxious to see as much of it as possible in a short time. In a brief visit to the south he met an aged negro who had been a slave. "How interesting," he remarked. "And after the war you had your freedom?" The old man looked at him half sadly, half sheepishly, shook his woolly head and said: "No, sah. Ah didn't git no freedom—Ah done was married."

A BALD-HEADED WOMAN

Shorn of Her Crown of Beauty, Loses in Love and Marriage.

Hair is certainly most necessary to woman. Who could love and marry a bald headed woman. What charms could she array to offset such a disfigurement.

A woman's goal is usually love and marriage. Her crowning glory is her beauty. The loss of her hair mars her beauty, happiness and success. Yet right here in Paris there are hundreds of women who are neglecting their hair to such an extent that it is only a matter of time when it will be utterly ruined.

Many women destroy the beauty of their hair through thoughtlessness or ignorance of certain facts. They use curling irons overheated or to excess which destroys the natural oil of the air causing it to split, break and come out. They do not shampoo their hair often enough, or too often. They use soaps or preparations which contain ingredients positively harmful to the scalp and hair.

As a result of such treatment dandruff is created, the hair loosens, loses color, falls out, and baldness commences unless proper and prompt precautions are taken in time. Then again microbes and certain diseases bring about unhealthy scalp and hair conditions.

Almost any woman may rid herself of dandruff and diseased scalp and hair if she will but use the right remedy. We have that remedy, and we will positively guarantee that it will either cure dandruff and baldness or it will not cost the user anything.

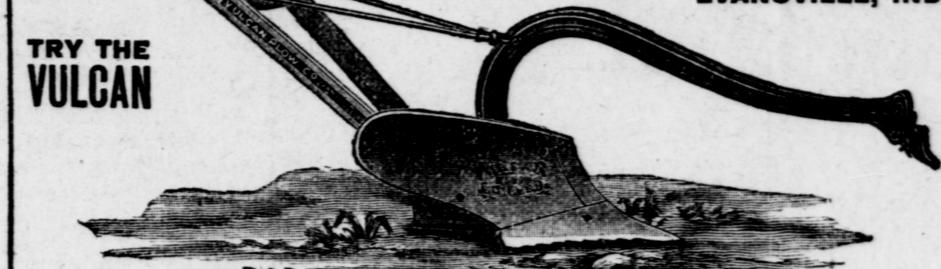

That's a pretty broad statement but we will back it and prove it with our own money. We will return your money if you do not find that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is an entirely satisfactory remedy that will promote hair growth and overcome scalp and hair troubles; that it will grow hair even on bald heads, unless all life in the hair roots has been extinguished, the follicles closed and the scalp is glazed and shiny. It gets its name from the fact that it grew hair in 93 out of 100 cases, where it received a thorough hard, impartial and practical test.

We want you to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic at our risk. You surely cannot lose anything by doing so, while you have everything to gain.

You had better think this over and then come in and see us about this offer. You will be well repaid for your visit to our store. Remember you can get Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. G. S. Varden & Son.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES

At a meeting of the directors of the Planters and Farmers' Loose Leaf Tobacco Company it was decided to erect another large warehouse in Maysville. The building will cost $40,000. Work is to begin in a few days and must be finished by October.

Wadsworth, 23 years old, the sire of many good thoroughbred racers is dead of distemper at the farm of H. L. Stevens, in Clark county. He was the property of Thomas H. Stevens, formerly of the Walnut Hill Stud. He was bred by James Ferguson at Kingston Stud and during his early day and his racing career was owned by Col. R. T. Holloway while after being relegated to stud duty was owned by Mr. Stevens. He was the sire of many good horses of real class.

Bequeathing Fortunes to the Public. It is a growing and beneficial practice among wealthy Americans to acknowledge and act on the trusteeship of great fortunes, so that they may be applied in whole or in part for the good of their fellow citizens. California has had more than its share of those who had acquired great possessions and felt the obligation to apply them for the common good.—San Francisco Call.

Will Not Use Word "Pauper." The Norwich (England) board of guardians recently unanimously decided that in future the word "pauper" shall not be used in any of the board's records or minutes. Mr. Millington, a farmer, brought the matter forward. Many respectable persons, he said, required relief through no fault of their own, and the word was objectionable and cast undeserved stigma upon recipients of relief and their children. He suggested that the word "poor" should be substituted.

Sea Narrowing England's Shores. In the past 30 years more than 3,000 acres of England's coast have slipped away into the sea. The county of Yorkshire has been the chief sufferer, losing about 800 acres. Lancashire and Suffolk have each lost almost 600 acres and Kent, Sussex and Lincolnshire have added materially to the total.

Valuable Collection of Stamps. A valuable collection of postage stamps belonging to a Budapest architect, and estimated to be worth $200,000, was recently purchased by a Hungarian firm of dealers. There were seventeen volumes in the collection, some of the stamps being worth as much as $1,500 apiece.

New System of Picture Hanging. A new system of picture hanging, consisting of a rod fixed to the wall and passing through screw eyes fixed to the frames, has been invented by M. Rozier, locksmith to the Banque de France, and is to be tried at the Louvre.

How He Liked Pittsburg. A man who has just come back from Paris was taken the other day to view Pittsburg for the first time. He kept washing his face and hands the whole day. The friend who was with him asked him how he liked the town. "Well," he replied, "it soots me all over."

Cold Weather

"Some good, old-fashioned winter, believe me," said Miss Connelly, gaily, as she bounced into the cloak room. "Anybody that's collectin' this kind of weather can have all that's comin' to me and no questions asked."

She threw her muff at Miss Hoffman and her fur collar at Miss Larson and laid two icy fingers on the back of Miss Frizzle's neck. Miss Frizzle squirmed out of reach.

"You're terribly nervous, Frizzle," said Miss Connelly. "You ought to take something for it."

"I'm more likely to hand out something," rejoined Miss Frizzle, with justifiable indignation.

Miss Connelly winked at Miss Hoffman, who promptly collapsed in an attack of the giggles. "Pretty smart for you, Frizzle," said Miss Connelly. "Look at what you done to little Huffy. Some of them wheezes of hers is going to strike in some day."

"I wish you girls could see ma," she went on after a moment. "You never did see any person hate the cold the way ma does. The first night I breezed in out of that north wind ma was settin' just as close to the kitchen stove as she could set."

"Forevermore, ma," I says, puttin' my hand on the back of her neck, like I done to Frizzle just now, 'why don't you get into the stove?'

"I would," says ma, "if the door was big enough."

"Say, it always tickles me to death to see ma get peevish, so I went to the door and flung it open. 'Gee,' I says, 'but it's close in here!'

"'Nell Connelly,' yells ma, 'shut that door this minute, or I'll take my slipper to you!'

"I didn't move fast enough to suit her, so she jumped at the door and slammed it shut and I really thought she was going to hand me one on the side of my head, she was so mad."

"Well, she says, 'I never thought to live to be the mother of a goose,' she says, 'though it ain't a word that I care to use, me bein' a lady. It don't run in my family,' she says. 'I always did say you took after your pa's folks.'

"The next morning, when I came down to breakfast, ma was shaking so with the cold that she was makin' the dishes rattle on the shelves. I was doin' a shiverin' act myself, but I wasn't in the same class with ma."

"My teeth was chattering so I could hardly talk, but I says, as steady as I could: 'My, ain't it oppressive this mornin', ma? What do you say to havin' cold boiled ham, lemonade and ice cream for supper tonight?' I says.

"I couldn't get a word out of ma that night when I come home from work. I don't know's I ever seen her so sore before. After supper my kid brother and sister got to scrappin' and, bless Pete, if they didn't break the window! Ma give 'em just one look and then she beat into her bedroom and locked the door, and not one of us set eyes on her again that night."

"The next night when I blew in there was my kid sister gettin' supper."

"Where's ma?" I says.

"Gone to bed," says the kid.

"It gave me an awful jolt. I'd never known ma to go to bed in the daytime since I'd been acquainted with her."

"She ain't sick, is she?" I says.

"She's actin' awful funny," the kid says. "I can't tell whether she's sick or not. You better go in and talk to her."

"Well, I went into ma's room and there she was in bed with a hot water bottle on each side of her, about seven blankets and three comforters on top of her and my kid sister's cap that she wears to school pulled over her face."

"Why, ma," I says, "what's the matter? Are you sick?"

"I s'pose you might call it bein' sick," she barks. "I know I'm sick and tired of this here weather and I ain't goin' to countenance it another minute." Ma knows some swell words, believe me. She's got a grand education.

"Well," I says to ma, "I guess stayin' in bed's the best thing you can do," I says. "I'll fetch you in some supper and some hot coffee and then maybe you'll feel better."

"You let me alone," says ma. "You needn't bring me nothin' to eat. Do you think I'm going to sit up and eat it? You bet your life I won't."

"On the square, I began to think she'd gone dippy. She didn't act no more like ma usually does than nothin'. 'Oh, come out of it, ma,' I says.

"You bet I won't come out of it," ma says. "I'm going to stay right in it till spring. And, what's more," she says. "I ain't goin' to wash my face till the temperature gets above freezing, and before I come to bed I did my hair up to stay till the Fourth of July. Now, beat it," says ma."

"My, I should think she'd get awful tired of it," said Miss Larson, anxiously. "Do you really think she will stay there in bed?"

"Sure she will," replied Miss Connelly, winking cheerfully at the other six. "Ma takes after me and George Washington. She never told a lie."—Chicago Daily News.

CLAIM FORTUNE IN AMERICA

Welsh Railroad Man Confident of Proving Title to Part of New York City.

London.—Thomas Williams, a retired railroad man, who lives in a cottage at Caersws, a Welsh village, tells me that he is confident of proving his right to a fortune in America of $275,000.

He bases his claim on his belief that he is the nearest surviving male relative of Edward Edwards, a Welshman, who emigrated in the 18th century and amassed an enormous fortune, but died intestate. Edwards was a native of Llanymynech, near Oswestry, and removed to Silverdale, where he married. His wife's behavior caused him to emigrate to New York state, where he acquired cheaply the marshy land on which part of New York city now stands.

When the British government recognized American Independence Edwards leased his land to the United States government, but the lease expired in 1880.

Edwards also acquired collieries at Edwardsville (named after him).

Williams told me that he was sixty-four years of age, had worked on five railways including the Northwestern, the Great Central and Brecon, Merthyr & Cambrian. He saved money, but lost some in the Liberator frauds and more recently in a London bank failure. He has engaged a first-class lawyer in America and is himself collecting data here. He showed me papers which seem to have a strong bearing on his claim.

OLDEST HOUSE IS RAZED

Southampton, N. Y.—The oldest frame house in the United States is being razed by workmen by order of the authorities. It was built in 1648 by Thomas Sayre and was known as the "Old Sayre homestead." Sayre was an English gentleman who came to this country in Cromwell's time and was one of the original settlers near Southampton in 1610. The Sayre house is in the center of the village and has long been the principal point of interest here. With proper caretaking the old house would have stood for a century yet, but it was allowed to decay and crumble.

All the material in the old building with the exception of the glass was homemade. The timber, boards, shingles, laths, brick and even the nails, which were turned out by the old village blacksmith, were bought here. Huge fireplaces warmed it.

During the revolutionary war the house was used by British officers, who compelled the women to cook for them and the men to mind their horses. The valuables at that time were buried until the officers left the homestead. The property is still owned by a descendant of the original Thomas Sayre.

COURT DECIDES ODD CASE

London.—The divisional appeal court has decided that it is not legal cruelty to stab or carve your initials on a living whale, as long as the animal is not kept in captivity. Last July a number of whales were stranded or the Cornish coast near Penzance, and the villagers commenced chopping them up, while sightseers even carved their initials on the distressed animals' sides.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals prosecuted one of the initial carvers for cruelty, but the local magistrate held that as the whales were not in captivity the offense did not come within the law.

Appeal the society tried to prove that as the whales were surrounded by people and could not get away till the tide turned they were in a state of captivity, but Justice Pickford while admitting that initial carving on stranded whales was a form of amusement that ought to be punished, decided that the term "captivity" did not apply, and dismissed the appeal.

TIPS TEMPT FRANCE TO TAX

Nice—Declaring the croupiers at the gaming tables in the big French gambling resorts earn more than ministers and ambassadors, and that the winnings of the owners are "princely," a member of the French chamber proposes that a new tax be assessed on the tables, graduated according to the winnings.

The croupiers get no salary. They live on "tips." At the Enghien Casino, near Paris, these amounted to 1,737,000 francs during the season of 1911. The winnings of the Casino tables amounted to 8,429,912 francs.

Here in Nice the owners of the gambling tables made a neat little profit of 7,499,999 francs. Much of this was lost by Americans.

The Oldest in Llyod's.

London.—The oldest craft to be found in Llyod's register is a schooner or ketch of 32 tons burden, called The Purveyor, having just 102 years of service to her credit. A few weeks ago she was purchased by a Norwegian, Captain Reinertsen, who is now preparing to sail her from Bideford, Devon, to Durban, in the South African Ocean, a distance of 6,000 miles.

Seeking A

Sensation

(Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press)

Carruthers jammed his note book into his pocket; lit his big calabash pipe, took up his walking stick and soft hat and whistled to his dog, Mike. A moment later he was swinging across the fields surrounding the aviation club.

Carruthers could not tell the dog that he had written a story in which an airship figured and that his knowledge of bird men and their craft was lamentably meager.

"We will stroll about the fields, Mike, in the hope that some conqueror of the air will chance to pass over our ignorant heads. In that way we may glean a sufficient atmosphere to make our story real."

Half an hour later Carruthers was lying full length in the long grass. Mike, more or less disgusted that the walk had turned out as it usually did, nosed about for venturesome snakes and moles.

Suddenly he pricked up his ears. A buzzing as of many bees disturbed the silence. The noise grew louder, nearer, Mike circled about like mad until he caught sight of the great flying thing that was approaching nearer and nearer.

Mike, completely disgusted at his master's lack of enthusiasm, put his nose to the sky and yelped frantically at the flying monster.

His efforts were successful. Carruthers awoke from his dreaming and sat bolt upright.

Steady and smooth as a bark on a calm sea the bi-plane sailed majestically through the air.

"By Jove, Mike!" Carruthers exclaimed in his enthusiasm, "I would give the whole of my last cheque for the sensation of gilding through space like that!"

As if in direct answer to his desire a missive came hurling down from the airship.

Carruthers picked up the missive and read:

"Whoever finds this note of mine, Can fly with me at any time.

Call at hangar number nine.

"N. QUILLER."

We will have to wait until tomorrow for our sensation," he told Mike as they made their way back to the lonely bungalow on the hill.

But the next day rain came down in torrents and the wind blew. Carruthers had a vague notion that bird men did not make flights in rainy weather.

Carruthers slackened his pace but when he drew near to the hangar that bore the name of N. Quiller.

Within, voices were heard and outside lay the great bi-plane.

Carruthers knocked at the green door and Mike barked imperiously.

With a hesitating gesture Carruthers held out the square of lead with its bit of paper.

"I am looking for a man by the name of N. Quiller—the man who dropped this."

A silvery laugh came from behind the goggles. Carruthers started back. "So you picked up my note." The laugh came again and Carruthers found himself making music of it. "I hoped it would be found and if you are ready we will go up immediately."

Carruthers had drawn away in his embarrassment. "I—I—had not expected to find a—a—lady," he said hesitatingly and twirling his cap in a vague, undecided manner.

The voice from behind the goggles was slightly mocking. "You are not afraid, are you?"

"I might be if I could see your face," Carruthers told her with his whimsical smile.

Natalia Quiller colored swiftly beneath the leather bonnet, "Then you can not see my face until we reach terra firma," she cried laughingly. "Come—I will take you up as my note promised."

"Don't you want to know the name of your passenger in case—" "In case we come down quicker than we expect?" she laughed. "Yes," she said with sudden softness, "yes—I would like to know your name."

"John Carruthers—and that is my dog, Mike."

"Is my passenger then, the John Carruthers of short story fame?"

"I was seeking sensations for a story when your missive nearly took my ear off," the author said.

"I hope you find—sensations," Natalia said with a wicked light in the eyes behind the goggles. And Carruthers found more than a story—he found a wife in the air.

Tactful Request.

Dobbleigh was a confirmed borrower, and, what was worse, he seldom returned the borrowed articles. He had held on to Whibley's umbrella, for instance, for nearly a year.

"And I'm blest if I know how I am ever going to get it back," said Whibley.

"Easy," said Hickenlooper. "Call a messenger and send Dobbleigh this note."

And he scribbled off the following: "Dear Dobbleigh: If you can spare it I'd like to borrow that umbrella of mine for a couple of days. Can you oblige me?"—Harper's Weekly.

Wrong Idea About Whales. Since the time of Aristotle people have assumed that whales blow water through their noses, not, as is actually the case, condensed breath. That this view was wrong is proved by the fact alone that the throat of the whale, which is the only way that the water can enter, is not connected with the air passage.

COMMITTEE FILES REPORT

NEW ORDINANCE PASSES

Requires All City Employees to Refrain from Use of Liquor While Discharging Duty.

Initial steps toward the establishment of a municipal lighting plant in Paris were taken at the meeting of the City Council last night, when after the Light Committee which has had the matter of investigating the rates which the Paris Gas and Electric Co. are charging made its report and recommended the building and equipping of a plant.

At the meeting last night the full Board was present and the ordinance introduced by Councilman Kenney several weeks ago and which was amended at the last meeting prohibiting employees of the city from indulging in the practice of entering saloons or drinking while on duty passed by a unanimous vote.

The report submitted by the Light Committee was accepted by the Board and the Finance Committee was authorized to communicate with various electrical houses in an effort to ascertain the cost of equipping a plant, and was also given the authority to employ an engineer to go over the grounds upon which the proposed plant will be located and to submit plans and specifications.

The report submitted by the Light Committee which was the result of several weeks investigation is as follows:

The Committee on Lights, having been given the power by the Mayor and Council of the city of Paris, to investigate the exorbitant accounts rendered to the private consumers by the Paris Electric and Gas Light Company, hereby make their report:

First—After a thorough investigation, to the best of our ability, the information we could obtain is that the meters of this company appear to be practically correct.

Second—In some instances, the meters have been overread and also underread some months, and then coming up very large the next month.

Third—That the Paris Electric and Gas Light Co. have or have had some very incompetent meter readers, according to their own statements.

Fourth—We have communications from several municipal owned plants, which seem to be doing well and giving low rates of lighting, and also from private ownerships, which likewise give the same rates as that of the Paris Electric and Gas Light Co., which give satisfaction to the consumer, also those that give a much lower rate.

Fifth—We find that if the meters are registering right at present we have no reason to doubt, that the rate per K. W. is too high for the amount consumed by the average consumer and far more than they can afford to pay; also if the fact that the daylight current is greatly used and abused, as the light company charges, then as the amount of current used has been greatly increased, then we cannot see why the price should stand the same as it did when a smaller amount was consumed. A certain amount of current is wasted at the plant, as has been stated to us, then if this amount is used why still can the prices stay 12 cents per K. W. instead of being reduced.

Sixth—We have invited and had a representative of the Paris Electric and Gas Light Co. at our meeting and talked the situation over with him, and he stated to us that he would not reduce the prices. We asked him how many incandescent lights were burned in the city, which he refused to tell us.

Seventh—In view of the fact that the people are not satisfied with the present situation of the charges made them, and from our investigation, and the refusal of the Paris Electric and Gas Light Co. to give us any information to enlighten us on the excessive of their accounts against the private consumers, and clamor of the laboring people and people of moderate means to use electricity as lights, but the fear of excessive accounts which might be rendered them, which would reduce their income too greatly.

Therefore, we, the committee, recommend that the city of Paris, be owner of its own Electric Light and Power Plant, thereby protecting citizens and taxpayers, both rich and poor, and to eliminate it from politics, putting same under a band of commissioners to be elected by the people.

Good Bookkeeping.

Sir Walter Scott, in lending a book one day to a friend, cautioned him to be punctual in returning it. "This is really necessary," said the poet in apology, "for though many of my friends are bad arithmeticians, I observe almost all of them to be good bookkeepers."

before the entire right of way will be had from Paris to Indian Fields.

The meeting of the committee from this county with the Louisville and Nashville officials is in every way assuring that Paris and North Middle-town have the greatest chance to secure the road which would be of the greatest benefit to the business interests of the county. Assuming that the project has a favorable termination no estimate can be made of what the results will be to Paris, bringing to our city a large number of people, putting us on a direct line with the richest coal fields in the world and making it the center of the shipping interests in Central Kentucky.

Literary Club Holds Meeting.

The Paris Literary Club met Wednesday afternoon and a Browning program was rendered, the first paper being upon the subject "Browning, the Poet of Psychology," by Mrs. William Myall. This was followed by a Round Table discussion, the topics being "Browning, the Man," by Mrs. John Davis; "His Idea of Religion," by Miss Allene Power, and "His Lyrics and Dramas," by Miss Amos Turney, Jr. Mrs. Walter Payne then presented, "The Ring and the Book," a study.

After the program the election of officers was held and delegates to the State Federation meeting to be held at Mammoth Cave in May, and to the Biennial convention in San Francisco, also were elected. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. T. Vansant; First Vice President, Mrs. James McClure; Second Vice President, Mrs. Walter Payne; Secretary, Miss Mary Woodford; Treasurer Mrs. W. G. McClintock; Auditor, Mrs. Catesby Woodford, Jr.; Delegate to the State Federation, Mrs. Thomas H. Clay, Jr.; Alternate, Mrs. John Davis; Delegate to the Biennial Convention, Mrs. James McClure; Alternate, Miss Mary Fithian Hutchcraft.

The civic committee, composed of Miss Lucy Blythe Simms and Mrs. Henry Power, received instructions as to work to be accomplished in the near future, and they will co-operate with Mrs. Robert Goggan, chairman of the civic committee in the Progressive Culture Club in the cleaning up day for Paris in May.

Newman Auto Bill Killed.

The Newcomb automobile bill, which contained what were termed "drastic" clauses, is dead. The measure, are being loaded down with amendments, was finally tabled in the House Monday night without a roll call after a series of heated debates. This ends any chance of any legislation this session against automobiles and is considered a great victory for automobile clubs of Kentucky. In all the big cities of the State auto clubs adopted resolutions condemning the bill, declaring it would ruin the auto business in Kentucky if it became a law. A petition signed by the auto owners of this county which followed a meeting held here was sent to Frankfort in opposition to the measure.

Gets Appointment In Lexington.

The many friends of Mr. Hughes Bronston in this city will be gratified to learn of his appointment as manager of the road oiling department of the Indian Refining Co. in Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and Southern Ohio, and he arrived in Lexington at which place he will make his headquarters. Tuesday, Mr. Bronston, who is a son of the late Senator Chas. Bronston, of Lexington, has been in the employ of the Indian Refining Company for some time and has worked himself from the bottom to the responsible position he now holds. Before being transferred to Lexington, He had charge of road oiling department of several Eastern states. Mrs. Bronston, who was formerly Miss Edith Alexander, of Paris, will join him in Lexington, and will visit relatives here.

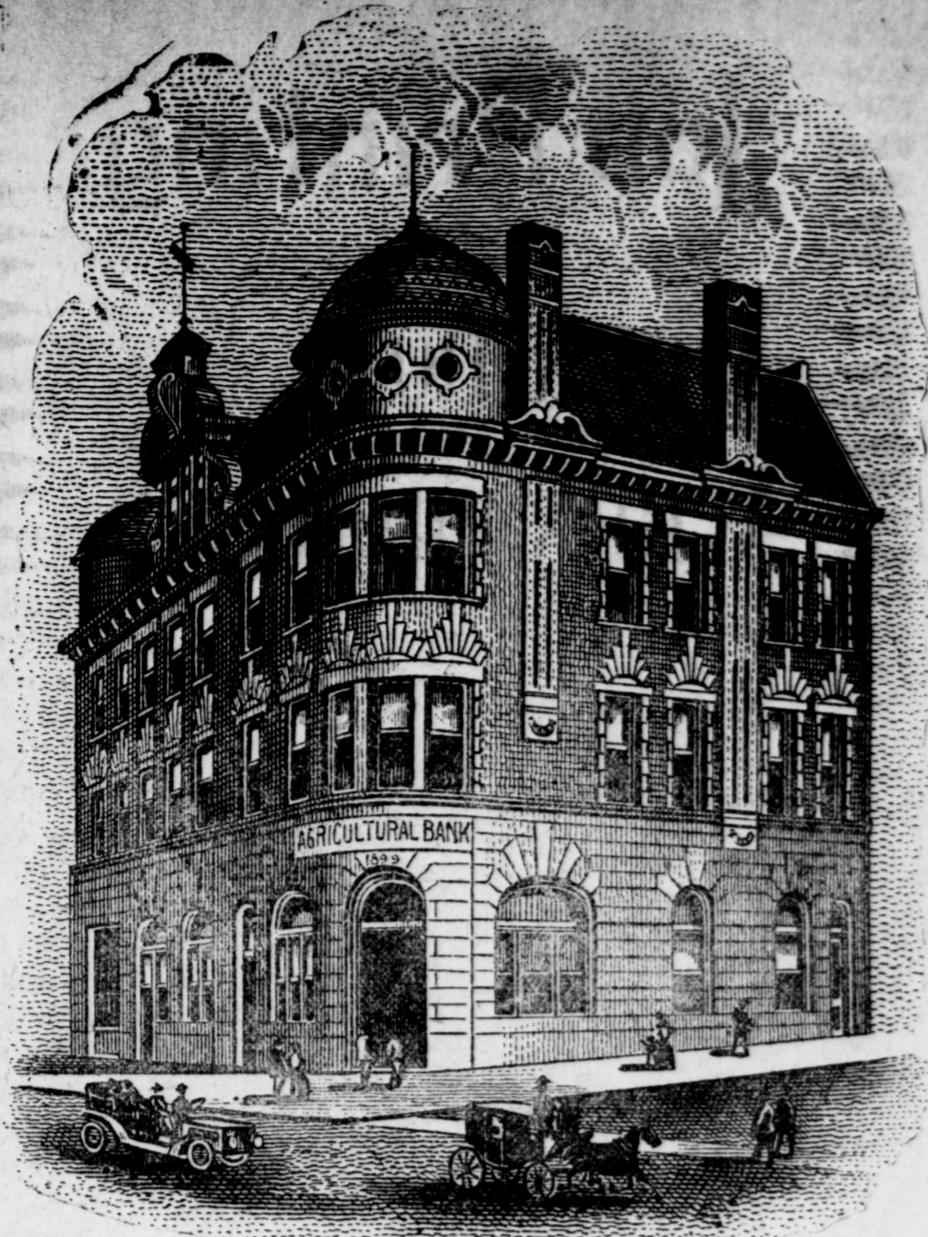

Mandate Filed in Fayette Court.

The mandate of the Court of Appeals reversing the decision of the Fayette Circuit Court in the case of Maggie R. McClintock against James D. McClintock, of Paris, for a divorce and alimony and the custody of their two year old daughter, Rachel McClintock, was received Tuesday by James C. Rogers, Circuit Clerk of Fayette, for record. The judgment of the higher court, which was written by Judge Lassing, covered twenty-two pages of typewritten matter. Regarding the deposition and custody of the child, the higher court says:

"While denying the plaintiff any relief whatever, the chancellor in his judgment awarded to her the custody of their eighteen months old child and directed that her husband should pay monthly for the support of herself and child, during this litigation, $62.50; per month; but made no provisions for the support of either the appellant or the child after the termination of this litigation. The judgment giving to the wife the custody of the child was eminently proper, and the provision made for its father to see it at stated intervals and to have the custody of it on certain days of the week, was fair and reasonable to both parties, and although no order has been made by the court for its support, by its father, after the termination of this litigation, the chancellor would have ample power to make such further order from time to time as it needs the conditions required. The chancellor should have allowed her at least $100 a month for the support of herself and child, and this sum may be increased as the child grows older, and its wants and necessities for clothing, schooling, etc., require the expenditure of additional sums, or it may be reduced if the circumstances of the parties require it. The judgment is reversed and cause remanded, with instructions to the chancellor to enter a judgment granting to appellant the relief sought to-wit: A divorce from bed and board and a separate maintenance, which he will fix in his order for the present upon the first of each and every month.

The attorneys for the plaintiff were Talbott & Whitley, of Paris; George C. Webb and Maury Kemper. Judge Denis Dundon, of Paris, and Allen & Duncan, of Lexington, represented the defendant.

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF.

Which is Better—Try an Experiment or Profit by a Paris Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment. Must be proved to be as represented. The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit.

But the endorsement of friends is. Now supposing you had a bad back, a lame, weak or aching one. Would you experiment on it.

DIAMOND NOTES.

The management of the Maysville club is $2,000 in the hole from last season and with the spring training soon coming on it is estimated the club will be $2,500 behind before the season begins. The hat will be passed around among the lovers of the game in the river town to make up the deficit. Here's hoping they get it, more too, that Maysville, a good base ball town, may remain in the league.

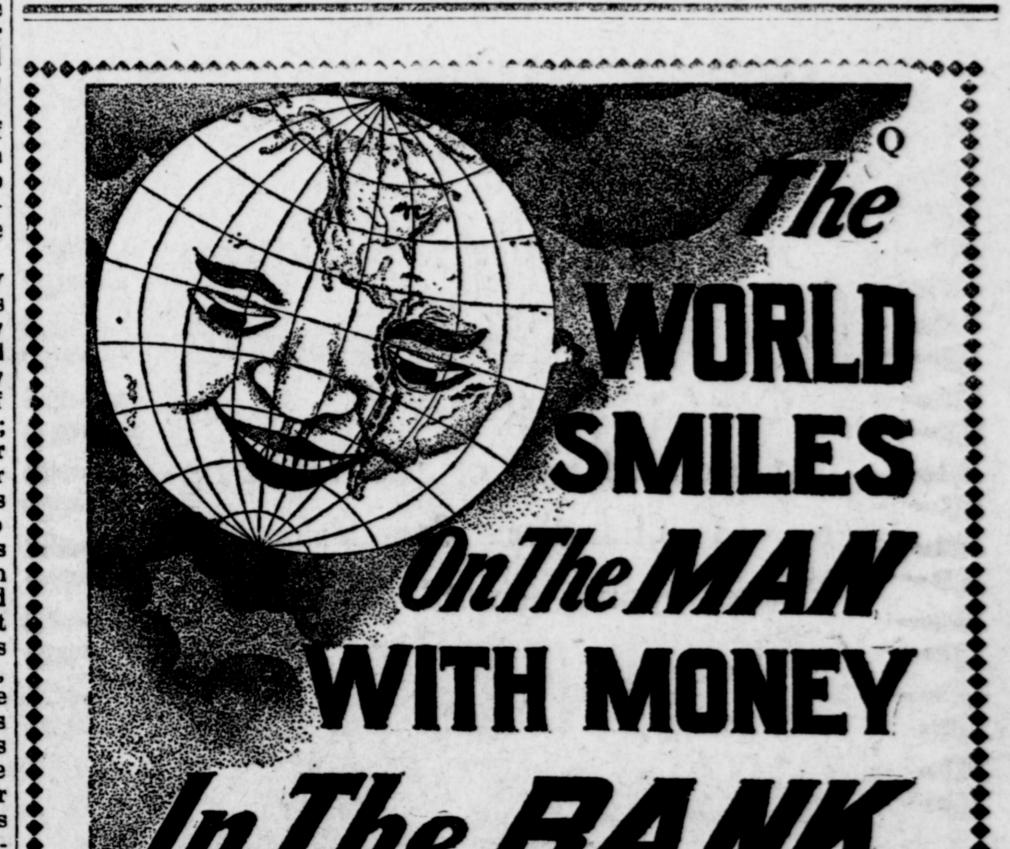

Got Away With Many Nickels.
With his pockets stuffed with nickels, a man was arrested in Mount Vernon, N. Y., a few days ago, charged with vagrancy. Puzzled at the jingling sounds issuing from his garments, the police searched his clothes finding, to their amazement, that 800 nickels were stowed about his person. The prisoner then confessed that he had tapped a nickel-in-the-slot machine and made away with $40.

Frequently Too Slow.

The maxim of Englishmen is "slow and sure," and too often they stand on the river bank waiting for the water to run away before venturing to cross it.—Rev. S. Baring Gould.

Hadn't Come So Far.
